

Draft Agenda: Oksenberg Conference
June 4: 1:00p.m. – 5:40p.m.
Bechtel Conference Center, Stanford University

Friction Points: Colliding Interests in US-China Relations

1:00p.m. – 1:05p.m. Welcoming remarks Professor Gi-Wook Shin, Director Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center, Stanford University

1:05p.m. – 1:10p.m. Introduction of keynote speaker Professor Coit D. Blacker, Director, Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies, Stanford University

1:10p.m. – 1:55p.m. Keynote address, Jeffrey Bader, Senior Director for Asian Affairs, National Security Council

1:55p.m. – 3:40p.m. Panel I: Competition and Cooperation in the US-China Economic Relationship

Chair: Jean Oi, Director, Stanford China Program, Stanford University

1:55p.m. – 2:15p.m. Nicholas Lardy, Senior Fellow, Peterson Institute for International Economics
Sustaining Economic Growth in China

2:15p.m. – 2:35p.m. Robert Kapp, Former president of the U.S.-China Business Council
From Annoyances to Vexations to Frictions to Tipping Points: The Search for Balanced Perspective on Business's Recent Challenges in China

2:35p.m. – 2:55p.m. Thomas Heller, Executive Director, Climate Policy Initiative & Stanford University
Climate After Copenhagen: The Current State of Play

2:55p.m. – 3:40p.m. Discussion

3:40p.m. – 3:55p.m. Break (coffee & sweets)

3:55p.m. – 5:40p.m. Panel II: Sources of Tension in the US-China Security Relationship

Chair: Mike Armacost, Shorenstein Distinguished Fellow, Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center, Stanford University

3:55p.m. – 4:15p.m. Steven Goldstein, Department of Government, Smith College
The United States and Cross-Strait Relations: The Challenges Ahead

4:15p.m. – 4:35p.m. Alan Romberg, Senior Associate & Director, East Asia Program, Henry L. Stimson Center
Navigating between Allies and Adversaries: Japan and North Korea

4:35p.m. – 4:55p.m. Thomas Fingar, Oksenberg/Rohlen Distinguished Fellow, Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies, Stanford University
Congruent and Competing Interests in Iran and Pakistan

4:55p.m. – 5:45p.m. Discussion